

Atos Wordline – short company profile

Banksys, an Atos Worldline brand

With over 25 years' experience, the Banksys brand has become a benchmark of quality and efficiency in the payments sector. Banksys hi-tech terminals and security technologies for electronic payment have earned a worldwide reputation.

Some history

Banksys had been founded in 1989 through the merger of the two Belgian payment networks. In December 2006, Atos Origin completed the acquisition of Banksys and Bank Card Company (BCC) through its subsidiary, Atos Worldline. This acquisition created a European leader in payment services, with over 4.000 employees.

Today, the Banksys brand continues to stand for reliability and security in the fields of payment terminals and hardware security modules.

End-to-end know-how

Our 25 years of experience in the payments sector has coincided with enormous changes in technology - the advent of mobile communications, Internet, and international standards, for instance. Along the way, we also have built solid partnerships with key players in the technology sector, application development and end-customers.

By the beginning of the nineties, the accumulated expertise was such that the Banksys network and terminal technology was already being exported throughout Europe. Today, the Banksys brand enjoys worldwide recognition for its innovative, secure, and reliable payment solutions.

Omnipresent in supermarkets, petrol stations, and shop counters, the Banksys range of payment terminals provides new levels of convenience, security, reliability and speed to users across the globe. Banksys has also made financial transactions more convenient and secure than ever before, with its renowned hardware security modules.

Innovation keeps us going

But we don't seek to rest on our laurels. Our solutions are forward-looking: strong investment in innovation means we are constantly improving existing products and services. We also harness the power of new technological advances to add new products and new functionalities to our existing range.

In that process, our customers are central to what we do. We listen to their wishes and worries, to provide them with the right mix of products and services.

Banksys solutions form part of Atos Worldline's end-to-end offer. The company takes care of the entire payment process from A to Z: issuing cards, developing payment terminals, managing the payment network, processing payment transactions, providing e-services and CRM tools...
